

NEWS RELEASE FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

CELCOM AXIATA CELEBRATES BLISSFUL RAMADHAN WITH THE TRAFFIC POLICE FORCE

Traffic cops get new safety helmets and shown appreciation for their dedication during the festive season

KUALA LUMPUR, 29 JUNE 2016 – Ramadhan was made meaningful by Celcom Axiata Berhad today, as the country's leading data network provider sponsored new safety helmets to the personnel of Jabatan Siasatan and Penguatkuasaan Trafik Kuala Lumpur (JSPT KL), and later mesmerised them with a Buka Puasa event.

Prior to the Buka Puasa session, Celcom Axiata distributed 300 brand new safety helmets, which were handed by Tan Sri Dato' Sri Khalid Abu Bakar, the Inspector General of Police to his men in uniform, who are attached to the motorcycle unit.

Dato' Sri Shazalli Ramly, Chief Executive Officer of Celcom Axiata Berhad said the contribution was a humble show of appreciation from the telco to the enforcement body that contributed significantly to the society and whose sacrifices were noteworthy.

“These men and women sacrifice their valuable time and are persistent in their commitment towards ensuring the safety of Malaysians on the road, especially so during the festive season. As a socially responsible and caring company, we feel it is important to recognise their dedication and it is only appropriate for Celcom Axiata to take this opportunity share the cheer of Ramadhan together.

"We highly regard their endless commitment and diligence, and this is our way of saying thank you - as an expression of gratitude to them, aside from instilling the spirit of giving and sharing in the holy month of Ramadhan. Moreover, we hope to continuously nurture the collaboration and working relationship between bodies of authority such as JSPT KL and Celcom Axiata," he said during the safety helmet presentation.

This initiative marks the 12th year in collaboration between Celcom Axiata and the traffic police force, since it first commenced in 2005.

Later in the evening, both Dato' Sri Shazalli and Tan Sri Dato' Sri Khalid Abu Bakar proceeded with the distribution of 300 goodie bags to the traffic policemen on duty, enforcement officers and also the public in the city centre, specifically at Jalan Esfahan, Jalan Tunku Abdul Rahman, Kuala Lumpur.

The goodie bags comprised Bubur Lambuk, dates, bottled drinks and other sweets and other delicacies prepared by the employees of Celcom Axiata, together with the traffic police personnel, earlier that day.

The finale to the day's events ended on a high note as Dato' Sri Shazalli Ramly and Tan Sri Dato' Sri Khalid Abu Bakar were joined by 700 others, consisting of Celcom Axiata employees and members of JSPT KL for a majlis berbuka puasa at the Traffic Police Station at Jalan Tun H.S. Lee.

Among others present from the Royal Malaysian Police were SAC Dato' Mahamad Akhir Darus, Director of JSPT, SAC Dato' Amar Singh Ishar Singh, Chief Police Officer of Kuala Lumpur and DCP Dato' Abdul Hamid bin Mohd Ali, Deputy Chief Police Officer of Kuala Lumpur.

-Ends-